Rev. H. Wright, of Pincher Creek, occupied the pulpit at the Presbyterian church on Sunday morning last. At the close of the service a meeting of the congregation was held when the question of temporary union of the Presbyterian and Baptist services was given some consideration. A scheme was proposed, and a committee of three was appointed to confer with a similar committee from the Baptist congregation.

The custom officers of the province of Alberta will unite and donate enough money to buy a machine gun for the overseas forces.

Cowley Women's Institute

Sept. 2, 1915.—The last regular meeting of the Cowley Women's Institute was held in the Masonic Hall on Tuesday afternoon at 3 p.m. Although the number present was below the average, there was a lot of work done and business transacted.

Everyone who wants to have a real good time, is ready for the big Red Cross dance which will be given in the town hall on the 1st of October. Gentlemen will be asked to pay $1.00; ladies 50 cents and a cake or sandwiches. Proceeds will go toward keeping up the work of the Red Cross. We hope that all will come along to help us to raise money to carry on one of the noblest of patriotic works.

The donation which was given by Miss Agnes Hewitt, for the benefit of the Red Cross, will be sold for the benefit of the institute. Many contributions have been received one who carried it away. The Institute desires to thank Miss Hewitt in the noble work she has done in this thoughtful act. We also thank Rev. Mr. Smith for donating 50 cents to the Red Cross.

The Institute is now taking new subscriptions and renewals for the "Farm and Ranch Review." Commissions will go to help carry on the institute work. We hope you will help us to help us do our work. The smallest thing will be sure of our most careful attention.

It is not for hope of reward that we labor, but for the true patriotism, the shanty stir and arouse every human heart and mind to do their duty.

The next regular meeting of the Women's Institute will be held in the Masonic hall on Saturday, September 25th, at 3 p.m. Business: Red Cross work, etc. Visitors are always welcome.

Red and Grey for September is out and is a special duck shooting number. Honorary Dale the naturalist-writer contributes the opening article, a readable one, on "Live Decoy Ducks and Shooting over them." "Duck Shooting in the Cariboo" is an amusing story of the experience of two duck hunters who saw plenty of ducks but failed to shoot any. "After the Black Duck," "Two Hundred Acres of Geese," "Duck Breeding in the Park County, Alberta," are other stories that give a wild duck flavor to this number, and in addition there are other interesting stories of outdoor life besides the regular departments devoted to gunning and fishing. W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont., are publishers of this magazine of outdoor life.

The custom officers of the province of Alberta will unite and donate enough money to buy a machine gun for the overseas forces.

William Simpson, of Frank, has been appointed a game guardian.

The following letter was received from Mayor Handie, of Lethbridge, who is president of the Union of Alberta Municipalities:

"After a great deal of discussion on the part of the Executive, it has been decided to call a meeting of the Union of Alberta Municipalities at Banff on October twentieth, twenty-first, and as many following days as will be necessary to get through with the business."

Every municipality is urged, in the strongest manner, to have a representative present because of the necessity of getting together to discuss ways and means to pull through the abnormal circumstances. All municipalities are urged to take an active part.

It is only by getting together and exchanging views that we may find a satisfactory solution to our many difficult municipal problems.

The president makes a personal appeal to every municipality to send a delegate and further urges that your municipality in attending the meeting, bring with you the name and outline of the subject that your municipality is most interested in, for discussion. Come along and help each to solve his and your municipal difficulties.

The following, subject to modification, with any additional subjects that may be suggested, will be the calendar for this year's Convention:

1.—Presidential address, "Bond Value of Alberta Simplified," will be taken at read;

2.—The relation of the municipalities to the bondholders; the means of readjustment;

3.—Method of dealing with tax arrears;

4.—Unemployment, past, present and future;

5.—The care of wounded, invalids and other returned soldiers;

6.—The question of uniformity of advertising all municipalities;

7.—Taxation and Charging Expenditures;

8.—Assessment;

9.—Provincial Government legislation reference to paying off school moneys.

Excepting 1 and 7 no assignment of the above subjects has been made, and they are suggested as general subjects on which you may express your views.

Mr. W. S. Shore, K. E. Elliston, Mr. H. M. Murray, President of the Lethbridge Board of Trade, has consented to speak on the "Inter-Relations Between Municipal and Local Boards of Trade".

Let us all walk up and get together this year to help each other. In this way shall we do something worth while in our course and mission.

Eliminating Waste

Conservation of All Our Resources of Vital Necessity During War

Sir Edward Carson in his stirring manifesto on the first year of the war from the British cabinet said: "No one nobody knows how long the struggle will continue, but that the allies will do their best to shorten it." These demands are satisfied.

That is the plain language.

The only thing that can bring about peace without the attainment of victory is a stalemate, or a state of exhaustion, or a decisive battle.

The character of the warfare and the tempo of the battles in which our troops predict the possibility of a quick victory are not known.

The struggle may, and will, be marked by many great individual acts of heroism, but the power of the endurance of the bulldogs; the nation, or combination of nations, will emerge victorious.

Picric acid is a Coal Tar Product

The most powerful antiseptics are high explosive and one of the most powerful is picric, which is very similar to the well-known and well-known arsenic salinose. Lyddite is simply picric acid in its most concentrated form.

Picric acid is a yellow crystalline substance largely used as a pain killer in the treatment of burns. It is intensely poisonous and a powerful irritant.

Attention to its value as an explosive was first drawn in 1885 by Prof. Alfred Nobel at his Lyddite factory where it was being manufactured. Picric acid was independently studied in France and early in the nineties of last century it was adopted there for use in shells.

Picric acid is made from coal tar, the residue of gas manufacture.

There the heavy oil of coal tar is boiled with sulphuric acid and carbonic acid, separate from it.

The carbonic acid is taken, boiled in water, and the remaining liquid strong and purifying is poured.

The resultant is picric acid.

It has great virtues as an explosive, but its chief value is that it is not easily exploded when pure and dry, though it can be dropped from a height of about 100 feet so that it does not act violently when lit. To explode it requires a much more powerful detonator, which usually contains fulminate of mercury and detonates when heated.

Its chief fault is that it is intensely explosive, and when mature it presents a danger to all who are in its presence, forming exceedingly explosive compounds, which go off quite unexpectedly.

The case with which corn and wants can be removed by Holway's Cure is its strongest recommendation.

Corn is a Coal Tar product.

"The best and especially Bush," said Senator Shantz, the other day in Washington, "are as uncouth as this in war as in Germany's strength."

"A wedding party at the seaside, you see, is a good time to go to the church, a salt creek."

"Oh, we have," cried the bride.

"Save him? What for?"

"He's an Al swimmer."

"What? Don't you see he's swimming toward the other bank?"

Sunday School Teacher—What do you think of the boy who said he found himself inside the whale?

Smart Pup!—I guess he thought he had a super dog, but he had closed his eyes.

Mrs. Giagges, who had married twice, was bemoaning her fate. "I shall always be a widow," she said of my first husband," she exclaimed.

"Nor, madam," replied Mr. Giagges bitterly.

From Femal Ills—Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Belleview, N. S., Canada.—"Doctored for ten years for female troubles and did not get well. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took it. I was so bad I bed four days at a time, could not eat or sleep and did not want anyone to talk to me or treat me at all. Sometimes I would feel better but not long. Different doctors did the best they could for me until four months ago I began giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a try and now I am in perfect health."—Mrs. WILLIAM H. GILL, No. 12 Pleasant Street, Auburn, New York.

This is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which should insure the success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for those who suffer from women's trouble.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., dental[ly]man.

Your letter will be answered, read and answered by Lydia E. Pinkham and held in strict confidence.

GERMANS BEGIN TO REALIZE THAT THE PEOPLE HAVE BEEN DECEIVED

A BRAND OF SHAME FOR THOSE RESPONSIBLE

Germans Within the Empire are Convinced that there has been No Conspiracy by any Government against Germany, and Only by Victory of the Allies will they be Set Free

In spite of a policy of suppression in Germany, the German people are almost daily awaking to a spirit of revolt that has been in a hypocritical atmosphere of the published manifesto of the socialists so assiduously kept up by the imperial government. That the empire was not to blame for the war is a fact of its very existence. It is held as asserted by a committee of the German immigrants in America, who were recently dated at notherland. That the members of that committee are from the class shown in the picture, that they are "convinced" that there has been no conspiracy by any government or any nation against Germany, and that on the contrary it is they who are the true guardians of humanity that we should be emulating, is a fact.

"Independent in all countries," it is declared, must assist in breaking that yoke before the German people can hope to find "true peace." As evidence that those whose sentiments are expressed in this new manifesto are not to be despised, the author, L. W. Wurtemberg, to join hands with all who realize the importance of the cause, are thus stated: "No state coveted our land or menaced Germany's independence. We have sold and welcomed on every ocean. Our citizens enjoyed the full rights of man. Our industrial output found a ready market in every quarter of the globe. Commerce was increasing year by year."

A year ago nobody would be found even in Germany to dispute these facts. Further evidence that there are Germans who are not swayed by the fascists is the statement that "Germany, Belgium, Luxembourg and France have been to blame." The liberation of Poland and Bohemia is also mentioned. How can one account for this feeling which cannot now be judged because, according to the terms of the armistice, the press is compelled to decieve the Fatherland and our countrymen in the trenches? By golden gifts given them of the world they have been seduced to betray the people's cause, they have sworn to defend. No matter what weapons have been made against the ruling power

The Farm Training

The Country in a Class by Itself for the Development of Character

Farm trained boys have long been the pride of the professions, but industry, in the professions, because of their greater initiative and ability, has always had the best army admits the superiority of boys from the farm, and lauds the education of the city's own breeding. The reason for this difference is an expression he holds by the artistic side of the modern city. The following paragraph from "Tomorrow" is not overdrawn as a description of the life of the average city boy:

"Light, air, fuel and water, the products of nature, are fed to him through the medium of the telephone, and he is harnessed for his light housekeeping. The municipality, of which he is a member, is not a dispensary of his waste paper and potato peels; regulates not all and inspects not his conduct. He is too many cubic feet of air sleep in, a minute in his morning milk, and a ladder in case of fire; assumes the supercilious attitude of the self-taught teacher of his children, policies at home, sweeps his streets, counts his little money, and, in case of the police, fumigates him, makes music for him in the parks, and keeps him off the grass."

Where is the chance for the development of character in such a life? Not much as there. Where is the opportunity for that communion with nature which is the basis of all true humanity? After all, the country is not such a bad place to live in, a place of the sun, the wind, the rain, the men of initiative and character, the country is a class by itself—Farm and Dairy.

Nearly Got the King

The King of Italy, who is an excellent soldier, was present recently at the border of the empire.

Having noticed that the Austrians were firing from a house, the King addressed his adjutant, "Let us give gun to fire at the building. The lieutenant aimed and fired the house, killing the officer and went away.

Later he received a telegram asking him to see the lieutenant's name, which was told him. The general said, "I said: The Habsburgs and three soldiers were killed half an hour ago. If your majesty let a similar telegram, I'll be glad to finish the sentence."

Praise for Canadians

A relative of General writes to the London Daily Express: "I was present at the review at the time when both the Canadian and British troops saw the Canadian troops march past. An old soldier, I can assure you, never fired更 than the thoughts that the thousands who passed in review under command of Generals Smith & Macmillan was a revelation."

Among them was a man of 70 years of age, who had stood in the deluge for over an hour and a half, but who had liked it well. Not only had he been a soldier ten months ago. There were enough six footers among them to make a guard brigade."

Builds Farm Social Centre

Worthy Citizen Construes Neighborhood Community of Hustona, Ohio

South Cleaveland, O.—A few miles of the "green country" of the United States is the town of Hustona, the only community of its kind in the entire country. It was built under the direction of Foster C. Green, a man who has been spreading neighborhood ideas to the country, so that rural residents may have a place where they can meet, and where the young of the country may be given a chance to get to know each other.

Houston himself deserves a part in the history of the country.

He is a skilful farmer who allowed out 10 cents a week spending money to his sons and daughters.

He worked from 3 a.m. till dark.

He joined all the local scientists as it was a hobby of his.

He inherited the rule they have been following for years by their law on land and sea."

The significance of this language is that it comes from one of the men of German blood who were born in the United States.

It is a sign of the times, the ice of guardians of humanity that we should be emanating from the country's leaders.

"Independent in all countries," it is declared, must assist in breaking that yoke before the Ger mans can hope to find "true peace."

As evidence that those whose sentiments are expressed in this new manifesto are not to be despised, the author, L. W. Wurtemberg, to join hands with all who realize the importance of the cause, are thus stated: "No state coveted our land or menaced Germany's independence. We have sold and welcomed on every ocean. Our citizens enjoyed the full rights of man. Our industrial output found a ready market in every quarter of the globe. Commerce was increasing year by year."

Three years ago he began to put his ideas on farming into operation.

Green, Clark, and Green counties, he diminated and instituted the tenant system with its important provision—the tenancy was operated as a separate business.

He is a man of great energy and ability, and he has done a great deal.

Sterling Exchange Makes New Gains

New York, Sept. 3.—Foreign exchange values soared today in an up-set market. Opening quotations on the foreign market overnight gains ranging from .52 to 12½ cents. The first gains on sterling varied between 4.70 to 4.75. Similar rises were reported to have occurred in London.

London, Sept. 3.—The rates were further increased this morning. The pound was 12½ cents more than the morning and the market was 12½ cents for a time. Cable transfers opened unquoted and considerably higher than New York at 1.60 to 1.62. The quoted rate jumped almost immediately to 1.20 dollars, leaving little room for a rise.

At about noon there were some covering operations which caused a decline to 4.68/69½, where the quotation stands for the moment. The rise already has had a detrimental effect on the market. American securities and American railroad stocks are one to three points below yesterday.

Make Prison a School

U.S. Labor Men Would Help Those at Sing Sing

With the arrival of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, representatives of his organization have invited him to speak to some instructors to Sing Sing prison, New York, to teach the principles of industrial organization. The move is in part the outcome of a recent visit which Mr. Gompers made to the prison. Mr. Gompers conferred with the warden, Thomas J. O'Brien, and the chairman of the National Committee of Prison and Prison Labor. He was accompanied by the secretary of the state of the New York State Federation of Labor, and by several other labor leaders.

"Aragh, now ye could!" Pat exclaimed.

"Close your eyes, Pat," said the friend.

What do you know about it?" Pat asked.

"I have had a close eye to the world and faith, they both of them opened mine!"
